Consulcad is a project services company with expertise in building and construction, mining & resources, property and real estate, infrastructure, facilities management & engineering.

Our understanding of the Architectural, Engineering & Construction (AEC) industries gives us the ability to provide strategic Project Management Consulting to our clients and offer a range of Construction Project Management Solutions.

Over the past 25 years we have worked on major projects for blue chip companies such as Rio Tinto, BHP Billiton & CB Richard Ellis, our clientele also include Government Departments responsible for health, education, transport and infrastructure - this has given us a great understanding of how projects are delivered successfully across Australia and internationally.

Consulcad has been a key partner in delivering some of Australia's largest projects, with our hands on approach we have accumulated a vast amount of knowledge and industry 'know how'. Government Departments and Blue Chip companies acknowledge our experience and regularly engage us to help assess different stages of major capital works projects.

Consulcad also provides Document & Drawing Management Solutions - ranging from strategic advice to completely outsourced document management services. We have experience conceptualizing, delivering and maintaining Document & Drawing Management Systems for small to large organisations.
