

Mail Manager

User Benefits

- Emails are stored in standard windows folder e.g. client or project
- Accessible via your BlackBerry
- Reduce inbox size
- All team members have access to emails
- Find & view emails when offline
- If an employee leaves the company emails can be found

Mail Manager is the low cost, easy to use software layer which sits on top of Microsoft Outlook that enables users to file, find and share emails easily.

Mail Manager provides some clever automated tasks and prompts to help each user as emails come in or are sent out. A key advantage being that emails can be stored in Windows standard folders, bringing related data together - for example by project or client.

Mail Manager does not rigidly force you to stay in control of your documents, it just provides the tools, should you so wish to do so to help you manage yourself.

Because Mail Manager is based on Outlook, users take to it easily. It lets you treat emails as if they were electronic documents, storing them by a click of your mouse or letting the user drag and drop - automating their archival.

It prompts users as they work through their mails to store them and this then makes all emails about a project instantly available to all those with rights to access that directory.

Mail Manager has over 27,000 users worldwide.
