Consulcad has been a key partner in delivering some of Australia's largest projects over the past 25 years; with our hands on approach we have accumulated a vast amount of knowledge and industry 'know how'.

Government Departments and Blue Chip companies acknowledge our experience and we are regularly engaged to help assess different stages of major capital works projects.

Rio Tinto's in house project management unit engage us to find a project management solution to help them deliver a range of projects across Australia and internationally.

BHP Billiton hired us to help them deliver one of Australia's largest projects valued at $11B - The BHP Billiton Olympic Dam Project in South Australia.

The Australian Government introduced the Gateway Review Process to improve the on-time and on-budget delivery of major projects undertaken by Government agencies.

All major infrastructure and IT Projects have Gateway Reviews at key project stages - David Henderson, Consulcad Director has led over 25 Gateway Reviews as team leader in Canberra, Victoria and Western Australia.
